

BB 23

USSR INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS

3 April 1962 X. Socio 180 (OUN)

X. P. 3 STACHINSKI

X. P. 3 d. BANDERA

The democratic public of Lebanon has received the appearance of the warships with angry protests. A letter conveyed to the Lebanese Premier by a delegation of public figures and journalists states: We demand that the visits of the aggressive U.S. fleet be stopped and that they never take place again. Beirut newspapers are receiving protests from Tripoli and other Lebanese towns. Get out of Lebanon, the Arabs say to the uninvited visitors from across the ocean.

UKRAINIAN DISCLOSES BONN SPY NETWORK

TASS Report

Moscow TASS in English to Europe 1455 GMT 2 April 1962--L

(Text) Berlin--Osip Vergun, a Ukrainian who collaborated with the Nazi and then the West German intelligence services before returning to the GDR, made a statement here today at a press conference arranged by the Soviet public organization called the Committee for Repatriation and the Development of Cultural Contacts with Fellow Countrymen. In his statement, Vergun described how members of the so-called Organization of Ukrainian Nationalists--OUN--are used by the West German intelligence service for espionage against the United States, France, Austria, and other Western countries.

He reported in particular that for a long time Dr. Roman Henlinger, in the past a staff member of Eichmann's so-called Reich security service of Nazi Germany, guided the activity of spy groups of the Federal Republic intelligence in Austria. At present he is working in West German intelligence under the shingle of the "East European Institute" in Munich. Among other West German spies who operated on Austrian territory he also named Bruno Kauschen, who on instructions of Federal Republic intelligence is now working among revanchist organizations such as the Union of Former Volunteers of the Nazi Army, the Union of Freedom, and others, which unite traitors, former soldiers of Vlasov's army, the "Galicia" S.S. division, the "Nachtigal" battalion, and others.

Vergun gave the names and addresses of many West German agents in Austria, France, and the United States. Among Gehlen's agents operating in the United States, he named Victor Salemann and Alexander Wieber. The former is working in an American atomic establishment, and the latter in an institute developing equipment for American earth satellites.

Vergun then described how West German intelligence and the Agency for the Protection of the Constitution use Ukrainian nationalists for espionage against American organizations in the German Federal Republic which are connected with American intelligence. He mentioned specifically the American intelligence school in Oberammergau, the American Liberation Committee, the Institute for the Study of the USSR, and the "Radio Free Europe" and "Radio Liberty" radio stations.